Article VI. Committees

Section 6.0 Kinds and Functions of Committees
The conference has permanent standing and ad hoc committees. Duly constituted official committees accomplish most conference work. The kinds of committees and their charges are determined by the steering committee, based on the recommendations of the conference members. Committee members are appointed by the steering committee after first determining the interests of conference members. Each committee prepares and makes an official report at the designated time at each biennial conference. Committee reports are duplicated and copies distributed as follows:
1. One copy to each permanent member (whether present or not) and to each participant in the conference.
2. One final copy to the conference secretary for inclusion in the conference proceedings. This copy includes all revisions approved by the conference.

Much of the work of committees is, of necessity, conducted by correspondence during the interval between conferences.

Section 6.1 Committee Structure
Each committee has a chair and co-chair. A secretary, or recorder, may be elected by the committee or appointed by the chair, if necessary. Committee chairs are selected by the steering committee or are elected by the conference. Chairs for the standing committees...

Each committee establishes an action register for accepted recommendations, including responsible individuals and timelines.

Each committee will make a report of their proceedings, including progress made on prior and new recommendations, and specific proposals and decisions for conference approval. The report must identify the committee chair for the following conference and include the names of all committee members and the action register.

Chairs will present committee recommendations, actions, and proposals for conference consideration at the conference business meeting.

The chairs of each committee will submit reports promptly to the conference vice-chair or designee, who ensures that the conference proceedings are assembled and distributed to the Soil and Plant Science Division for inclusion on the conference website.

Standing committees of the Northeast Regional Conferences are as follows:

Bylaws.—This committee solicits and reviews proposed changes to the bylaws. Its objective is to facilitate smooth operation of the conference, ensure continuity of committee work outcomes, and ensure coordination between regional and appropriate national standing and ad hoc committees by outlining procedures for conducting the conference.

Soil Taxonomy and Standards.—This committee maintains a formal mechanism within the Northeast Region to identify, document, prioritize, and address the critical research and development issues related to Soil Taxonomy and standards.

Research Priorities.—This committee maintains a formal mechanism within the Northeast Region to identify, document, prioritize, and address the critical research and development issues related to soil science, soil survey, and technical soil services.

Section 1.0  This award is presented every 2 years at the conference meeting. It is presented to a member of the conference who has contributed outstanding regional and/or national service to soil survey, technical soil services, soils research, and/or soils education. One or two individuals can be selected for the award every 2 years.

Section 1.1  The selection committee is made up of past award recipients. The last award recipient acts as chair of the selection committee. If multiple awards were given at the previous meeting, the chair of the selected committee is elected by the committee.

602.13 Bylaws of the North Central Regional Soil Survey Conference (Revised June 7, 2012)

Article I. Name

The name of the conference is the North Central Regional Soil Survey Conference. The letters NCRSSC may be used as the official acronym of the conference.

Article II. Purpose

The purpose of the conference is to bring together North Central States representatives of the National Cooperative Soil Survey (NCSS) to discuss technical issues and to provide a means of deciding and communicating the goals of the Soil Survey Program. Through the actions of committees and conference discussions, experience is summarized and clarified for the benefit of all; new areas are explored; procedures are proposed; and ideas are exchanged and disseminated. The conference also functions as a clearinghouse for recommendations and proposals received from individual members and State conferences for transmittal to the National Cooperative Soil Survey Conference (NCSSC). It also acts on recommendations from the national conference and other regional conferences.

Article III. Membership

Participants of the conference are the National Cooperative Soil Survey soil scientists of Federal, State, and university organizations; local units of government; and private organizations of the North Central Region (Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, and Wisconsin). The national leader for Soil Survey Research and Laboratory of the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) Soil and Plant Science Division serves as liaison to the NCRSSC, maintains a membership list for the conference, and provides the list to the incoming chair. If the position of national leader for Soil Survey Research and Laboratory is vacant, the liaison role is filled as designated by the director of the Soil and Plant Science Division. All cooperating agencies and organizations are responsible for providing current membership information to the Soil and Plant Science Division liaison. All soil scientists or other technical specialists of any cooperating agency or organization whose participation would be helpful for particular objectives or projects of the conference, including those from the host State, may be members.

Article IV. Meetings

Section 1. Time.

The conference ordinarily convenes every 2 years, in even-numbered years. Time of year is determined by the conference chair. Additional meetings may be called by request of the steering committee or the conference with the administrative approval of the participating agencies and organizations.

Section 2. Host State.

The host State is determined two meetings in advance (e.g., the 2006 conference selected the host State for 2010 and the 2008 conference selected the host State for 2012). During the conference, business meeting invitations from the various States are considered and voted upon. A simple majority vote decides the host State. The conference may be held at any suitable location within the host State.
rotation for the NCRSSC is as follows: North Dakota, Kansas, Ohio, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois, South Dakota, Missouri, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Indiana.

Section 3. Separate Meetings.

University agricultural experiment station representatives to the North Central Regional Committee No. 3 (NCERA-3) on soil surveys meet during the conference. Concurrently, soil scientists of the other cooperating agencies meet to discuss their issues.

Section 4. Basic Structure of Regional Conference.

Although the agenda for each conference varies depending upon current issues and items of interest, the following is a basic recommended list of items that could be included in a North Central Regional Soil Survey Conference. This list can be used as an aid for States planning future conference meetings:

1. Welcome by cooperating host State agencies.
2. Reports by cooperating agencies such as NRCS, NCERA-3, Forest Service (FS), Bureau of Land Management (BLM), Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA), and others, if applicable.
3. Reports from soil survey regional offices (SSRs) within the North Central Region.
4. Time allotted for breakout sessions for NRCS and NCERA-3, and others as needed.
5. Time allotted for committees to meet and discuss charges presented to them by the steering committee as well as time allotted for conference attendees to make input to each committee’s activities.
6. Time allotted for committee reports to the conference.
7. Time allotted for a business meeting toward the end of the conference.
8. A half- or full-day field trip to look at soil-related problems or landscapes of interest in the area.

Article V. Steering Committee, Committee Officers, and Committee Chairs

Section 1. The conference always has a steering committee.

The steering committee consists of:

- NRCS State soil scientist of host State
- The university representative for host State
- NRCS and university representative from the next host State
- Past NCRSSC chair and co-chair
- National leader for Soil Survey Research and Laboratory of the Soil and Plant Science Division
- Soil survey regional director for the host site
- The chair of the five standing committees

Officers rotate among agencies. That is, the chair must be of a different agency.
Title 430 – National Soil Survey Handbook

than the past chair. Similarly, the secretary must be of a different agency than the past secretary. At each biennial conference a secretary is elected for the succeeding conference. The secretary (whoever will be the next NCRSSC chair—either the NRCS State soil scientist or university representative) becomes chair when his/her successor is elected. When an officer is unable to complete his/her term of office, the steering committee appoints a successor.

Responsibilities of the steering committee include the following:
- Meet once after the business meeting of each conference and, if necessary, meet at other times.
- Assist in the selection of special participants in a specific regional conference.
- Assist in the formulation of charges to committees.
- Compile, edit, and distribute the NCRSSC Proceedings to all conference attendees within 120 days after the conference.
- Forward action items, recommendations, and resolutions to the national leader for Soil Survey Research and Laboratory of the Soil and Plant Science Division and to the director of Soil and Plant Science Division.

Section 2. Conference Officers.

A. Chair.
The chair is from the host State. Responsibilities include the following (specific tasks may be delegated to the secretary):

1. Functions as head of the steering committee.
2. Plans and manages the biennial conference.
3. Determines, in consultation with the steering committee, the kinds of committees; selects the committee chairs and assistant chairs; formulates and transmits charges to committees; and appoints committee members.
4. Issues announcements of and invitations to the conference.
5. Writes the program and has copies prepared and distributed to the members.
6. Makes necessary arrangements for food and lodging accommodations, special food functions, meeting rooms (including committee rooms), and local transport for official functions.
7. Provides appropriate publicity for the conference.
8. Presides at the business meeting of the conference.
9. Makes arrangements for a half- or full-day field trip.

B. Secretary.
The secretary is from the State that will host the next biennial conference. The secretary for the succeeding conference (in 2 years) is elected by simple majority vote at the NCRSSC business meeting.

Responsibilities of the secretary include the following:

1. Assists in the planning and management of the conference.
2. Assists in the selection of committee chairs and assistant chairs and in the selection of committee members.
3. Assumes responsibility for taking the minutes of all business meetings, collecting final reports from committees, and collecting any papers or presentations given during the conference.

4. Assumes responsibility for forwarding all conference minutes, reports, and papers to the national leader for Soil Survey Research and Laboratory of the Soil and Plant Science Division for the final preparation and distribution of the NCRSSC Proceedings.

5. Updates the conference membership list (given to him/her by the chair upon conclusion of each conference) and provides the list to the national leader for Soil Survey Research and Laboratory of the Soil and Plant Science Division.

Section 3. Committee Chairs.

The conference chair in consultation with the steering committee selects the chair and co-chair for each committee.

Article VI. Committees

Section 1. Most of the technical work of the conference is accomplished by constituted committees. The committees of the conference are determined by the steering committee. Some committees are continued from the previous conference. Permanent or standing committees, ad hoc committees, and task force groups are considered to be committees of the conference. The conference has standing committees on: standards, research priorities, new technology, interpretations, and soil and ecosystem dynamics. These standing committees communicate with their corresponding standing committee of the National Cooperative Soil Survey Conference.

Section 2. The committee chair selects a secretary, or recorder. Committee members are selected after considering steering committee recommendations, national conference recommendations, individual interests, technical proficiency, and continuity of the work. They are not limited to members of the National Cooperative Soil Survey.

Section 3. Each committee commonly conducts its work by correspondence among committee members. Most of the committee’s communications are by correspondence. Copies of all correspondence among members of the steering committee are sent to each member of the committee. Committee chairs provide their committee members with the charges as assigned by the steering committee and procedure for committee operation. Committee chairs are charged with responsibility for initiating and carrying forward this work. Chairs should initiate committee work at the earliest possible date. Each committee meets during the conference and permits other conference attendees to have input into each committee’s activities.

Section 4. Each committee chair sends copies of a final committee report to the secretary within 30 days after the conference.

Section 5. The chairs or representatives of the five standing committees are expected to participate in the corresponding standing committee of the National Cooperative

(430-602-H, 1st. Ed., Amend. 37, Jan 2021)
Soil Survey Conference and are expected to attend the next national conference. Their role is to ensure that concerns of the regional standing committee are communicated to the corresponding national standing committee and that information from the national committee is communicated back to the regional committee.

Article VII. Representation to the National Soil Survey Conference

Voting members of the National Cooperative Soil Survey Conference include the national leader for Soil Survey Research and Laboratory of the Soil and Plant Science Division and a NCERA-3 (State) delegate from the current host State for the NCRSSC. The NCERA-3 representative also serves on the steering committee for the NCSSC. Two additional delegates to the NCSSC include one NRCS soil scientist and one NCERA-3 (State) representative (with appropriate administrative approval). The NRCS soil scientist is chosen by simple majority vote during the separate Federal session. The second NCERA-3 delegate comes from the next NCRSSC host State and is assigned the task of presenting the NCRSSC report at the NCSSC. Both NCERA-3 delegates are chosen by simple majority vote during the separate NCERA-3 session at the NCRSSC.

Article VIII. Historical Record

A cumulative file of conference programs is turned over to each incoming conference chairman. A cumulative file is kept at the office of the national leader for Soil Survey Research and Laboratory of the Soil and Plant Science Division.

Article IX. Amendments

The bylaws may be amended at any time by a simple majority vote of the participants attending the biennial business meeting. An amendment is, unless otherwise provided therein, effective immediately upon adoption and remains in effect until changed.

Article VI. Committees

Section 6.0 Kinds and Functions of Committees
The conference has permanent standing and ad hoc committees. Duly constituted official committees accomplish most conference work. The kinds of committees and their charges are determined by the steering committee and recommendations from the conference members. Each committee makes an official report at the designated time at each biennial conference. Committee reports are copied and distributed as follows:

1. One copy to each permanent member (whether present or not) and to each participant in the conference.
2. One final copy to the conference vice-chair for inclusion in the conference proceedings. This copy includes all revisions approved by the conference. Much of the work of committees is, of necessity, conducted by correspondence and teleconferences during the interval between conferences.

Section 6.1 Committee Structure
Each committee has co-chairs, one from NRCS and the other an NCSS cooperator.

Section 6.1.1 Committee Co-Chair Responsibilities
Committee co-chairs are charged with the responsibility of initiating and carrying forward assigned work. They provide their committee members with the charges as directed by the steering committee and with additional instructions they deem necessary to complete the committee charge(s). Committee co-chairs initiate committee work at the earliest possible date to assure completion by the next scheduled conference. Committee co-chairs are responsible for prompt submission of their reports to the co-chairs of the steering committee, who then duplicate and distribute committee reports in the conference proceedings.

Committee co-chairs also give a report of committee actions and recommendations at designated times during the conference.

Section 6.2 Conference Steering Committee
The conference steering committee is co-chaired by the soil technology specialist from the designated National Technology Support Center (NTSC) (see Table 1) and the liaison from the NRCS National Soil Survey Center. The steering committee formulates policy on conference membership and participation. Final approval or disapproval of policy changes is by vote, during the biennial business meeting of the conference. The steering committee assures that there is a balance among States and agencies on each committee; that is to say, no one State or agency will dominate any single committee.

The conference steering committee shall consist of the following seven members:
1. Co-chair: Soil technology specialist from the designated NTSC
2. Co-chair: Liaison from the National Soil Survey Center
3. The soil technology specialist from the NTSC not acting as co-chair
4. Current conference chair
5. Current conference vice-chair
6. Past conference chair
7. Current MLRA representative

Section 6.2.1 Responsibilities of the Conference Steering Committee Conference steering committee responsibilities include but are not limited to:
1. Co-chairs call a meeting of the committee about 1 year prior to the conference.
2. Committee plans the meeting agenda, develops charges for permanent

(430-602-H, 1st. Ed., Amend. 37, Jan 2021)
standing committees, and formulates statements of conference policy.
3. Committee selects co-chairs and establishes ad hoc committees at least 4 months prior to the conference.
4. Committee reviews conference activities and develops an executive summary of conference recommendations.
5. Committee sends applicable conference recommendations to the steering committee chair of the National Cooperative Soil Survey Conference.
6. Committee sends applicable conference recommendations to the soil survey leaders of appropriate agencies for consideration and possible implementation.
7. Committee establishes and maintains liaisons between the conference and—
   - The national and other regional conferences
   - State Conservationists of 12 southern States and the Caribbean Area
   - Directors of the southern experiment stations
   - National Congress of American Indians
   - State, regional, and national offices of NRCS, U.S. Forest Service, Bureau of Indian Affairs, National Park Service, American Indian Tribes, and Consulting Soil Scientists Division (S12) of the Soil Science Society of America
   - NRCS centers
   - Other committees or work groups associated with the conference
   - Others as identified by the steering committee
8. Committee meets immediately after the conference to summarize recommendations and propose actions to be taken.

Participation by 50 percent or more of the conference steering committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Items shall be passed by a majority of members present. The co-chairs do not vote except in the case of a tie vote.

Section 6.3 Permanent Standing Committees
Permanent standing committees are established by the National Cooperative Soil Survey Conference bylaws as contained in part 602, subpart A, section 602.00 and subpart B, Exhibits, section 602.10.
1. Soil taxonomy and standards
2. Research priorities
3. New technology
4. Soil interpretation criteria review

Section 6.3.1 Soil Taxonomy and Standards Co-committee
The Soil Taxonomy and Standards Co-committee is comprised of the respective directors from the MLRA soil survey regional offices in Raleigh, North Carolina; Morgantown, West Virginia; Auburn, Alabama; and Temple, Texas. The NRCS co-chair will be one of these MLRA soil survey regional directors on a rotating basis, as indicated in Table 1 (see Section 5.1 above). The university co-chair will be selected by the university members and will serve according to the university’s desired rotation schedule.

Section 6.4 Ad Hoc Committees
Ad hoc committees may be established by the steering committee as needed to meet specific needs and/or goals as related to the standing committees.
Article VII. Conference Advisors

Section 7.0 Conference Advisors
Conference advisors are invited to the conference and shall act in an advisory capacity to assist in items related to agency line and policy. Advisors to the conference are the State Conservationist (STC) of the host State, or as selected by the conference, the experiment station director for the host State, or as selected by the conference, and a Forest Service regional forester.

Article VIII. Historical Records

Section 8.0 Conference Historical Records
The National Soil Survey Center liaison will maintain a permanent, cumulative file of conference programs, correspondence, committee reports, proceedings, bylaws, and other material generated by or related to the conference.

Article IX. Amendments

Section 9.0 Amendments
Any part of these bylaws may be amended for purposes, policy, and procedures at any time by ballot with a majority vote of the permanent membership. Participation by 50 percent or more of the conference permanent membership shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The co-chairs do not vote except in the case of a tie vote. An amendment shall, unless otherwise provided therein, be effective immediately upon adoption and shall remain in effect until changed or deleted.

602.15 Conducting NCSS Conferences

Communication within and between the National Cooperative Soil Survey (NCSS) regional and national conferences is essential. If the conferences are to remain an effective means of conducting business, and all partners are to be afforded effective means to contribute, then direction is needed on how communications happen within the conferences.

Steering committees and liaisons should coordinate with committee chairs to help ensure that meeting time is allocated appropriately among important conference activities, including working sessions for standing and ad hoc committees, updates, information exchange, and field trips. Meeting conference objectives requires coordination and continued feedback from the membership and from regular, ongoing work committees throughout the year. Timely execution of planning efforts for regional and national conferences is necessary to ensure participation in the preconference activity.

Coordination Activities

The Soil and Plant Science Division director assigns a liaison to each of the regional conferences and may be chosen from any NCSS member. The role of the liaison is to help ensure good communication between the regional and national conferences. Activities that can help accomplish this goal include: ensuring all steering committee members are familiar with the specific guidance given in the regional conference bylaws, helping the steering committee develop the agenda for the regional conference and adequately address issues of concern from the past national conference or current national committee deliberations, and helping ensure that all issues from regional conferences are identified in the conference report and that the report is presented and/or made available to participants at the next national conference.

The chair of each regional standing committee should attend the next national conference to ensure that issues of concern raised in regional committee deliberations are reported to the national conference and to provide clarification and counsel to the national committee regarding those issues. This individual should also ensure that discussions of the national committee are well understood during deliberations of the regional committee during the year following the national conference.

The regional steering committee, with the assistance of the assigned liaison, should ensure that the issues raised by any regional ad hoc committee are directed to all appropriate members of the national conference and that feedback is directed to the ad hoc committee so that committee members are aware of the disposition of their concern.

Regional standing and ad hoc committee chairs will provide a report to members of the national conference steering committee and the chair of each of the national standing committees or related national conference personnel as follows: within 30 days of the end of the regional conference, 90 days before the next national conference, and within 90 days of the next regional conference. In addition, any individual who has responsibility for a subject matter addressed as an item of concern or a recommendation should be provided a copy. The reports are presented at conference committee meetings.

To meet NCSS objectives, it is critical to have continuity from one conference to the next. The Timeline of Activities facilitates continuity.
